Contributors

Inthira Sahee is Lecturer in History, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Ubon Ratchathani University. The article is based on her PhD dissertation at the Department of History, Chulalongkorn University.

Montira Rato is Lecturer in Vietnamese at the Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University

Piyanart Bunnag is Professor in History, Director of Center for the History of Relations between Thailand and Asian Countries, History Department, Faculty of Arts and Director of Chulalongkorn University Memorial Hall, Chulalongkorn University. The article is revised from a paper presented at the 12th IAHA Conference, University of Hong Kong, 24-28 June 1991.

Piyapat Bunnag is Lecturer at the Department of Political Sciences and Public Administration, Faculty of Social Sciences, Kasetsart University.

Puengthip Kiattisahakul is Lecturer of History, Department of History, Faculty of Arts, Silapakorn University. The article is based on her PhD dissertation, 'The Japanese army and Thailand’s Southern Railways during the Greater East Asia War, 1941–1945,' presented to the Department of History, Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University, Academic Year 2004. This dissertation was funded by the Sumitomo Foundation, Thailand Research Fund, and the Graduate School of Chulalongkorn University.

Somsri Chaiwanichaya is a PhD candidate at the Department of History, Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University. The article is based on her PhD dissertation on 'The Thai government's policies to develop the Northeast, 1951–1976.'